Photo Contest

The Department of Computer Science is looking for an exciting photograph of “computer science in action” for the front page of our website.

We are calling for your photo submissions! The winner’s photo will be on the front page of our website with proper credit given to the winner.

Please send photos by October 26 to jjumadinova@allegheny.edu

Your photos must satisfy the following requirements:

- Your photo should display an element of “computer science in action”.
- Your photo should showcase the diversity and excitement of the students and faculty in computer science.
- You must have permission from the people who are in the photograph.
