US Citizens or Green Card only

The Junior Java Software Engineer will be a critical member of the technology team and will be involved in the full software development life cycle of multiple applications and supporting data architecture.

Responsibilities

- Work with the business team to implement solutions of business requirements including code development and database design
- Produce high-quality solutions by implementing unit tests and coding using industry standard best practices
- Coordinate with external teams, as needed, to ensure a quality development process
- Support operations by identifying, researching, and resolving performance and production issues

Basic Qualifications

- A few years of current Java experience
- Knowledge and familiarity with open source software development, test, and CI tools is required
- Must have at least a BS in Computer Science or an equivalent technical degree
- A desire to learn from some of the smartest industry leaders and apply your knowledge and experience in interesting and innovative ways